Illinois Bankers Association Welcomes Karlie Krehbiel of Lisle Savings Bank to Board of Directors

LISLE – The Illinois Bankers Association (IBA) has named Karlie Krehbiel of Lisle Savings Bank to its Board of Directors, building on a strong record of advocacy on behalf of banks across the state.

Krehbiel currently serves as CEO of Lisle Savings Bank. She began her banking career as a teller at the same institution in 2002. Over her tenure she has worked in Lisle Savings Bank’s accounting department, served as the bank’s Assistant Controller, as well as the Chief Financial Officer before becoming CEO in July 2022. She holds a bachelor’s degree in business and master’s degree in accounting from Indiana University.

Krehbiel is actively involved in the community, having served on the board of the West Suburban Community Pantry and as a high school youth group leader at Good Shepherd Church in Naperville. She and her husband Ryan are the proud parents of four little boys, and any of her time spent away from the bank is spent with them.

“We thank Karlie for her time and dedication on behalf of the banking industry,” said Randy Hultgren, President and CEO of the Illinois Bankers Association. “We are honored to have her join our Board of Directors, where her experience and expertise will help build a stronger banking community for all Illinoisans.”
